Raj

Hi mate hope your well,

Nick is away at the moment on leave but I will speak to him on his return on the 15th

You should know that at the present Australian Waters focus is solely on Sydney and Queensland and that is absorbing a lot of our resources and precious little time

So at the moment unfortunately our focus cannot be taken away from the immediate opportunity here in Australia.

Raj this is not to say that India is not on our radar, we are grateful to be able to run off your contacts in India, but we have to wait until the timing is right for Australian

Water, and unfortunately that time is not now.

Look forward to catching up soon, if you would like to catch up for a coffee to discuss further call me at anytime next week to arrange where and when.

Eddie
