FURLONG: No.

CHIDIAC: - if it's – if it's going on the nineteenth the councilors need to – to be briefed or they need to ah –

FURLONG: No it's only – nothing's changed except we got caught up in this bullshit about ministerial directions and – the council this time has to resolve having – w – w h – last time – well what they normally do is note the planning panels report.

FURLONG: What they actually have to do this time is note the comments from the planning panel and resolve – they’ve considered the – the report of the planning panel and resolve to send this to Gateway so it’s in a way that the staff put the words together so I can talk to them about that.

CHIDIAC: Alright it’s – but there’s – is there a vote on that?

FURLONG: Yeah –

CHIDIAC: (INAUDIBLE) council?

FURLONG: - yeah the coun – council has to vote.

FURLONG: But ye – it's just it (sighs) it is just ridiculous bureaucracy from the department.

CHIDIAC: Yeah mate it's yeah anyway when (UNINTELLIGIBLE) –

FURLONG: And the other thing – the other thing Joseph as I did say to Angelo the resolution said tidy up the reports and agree in principle on the terms of the VPA. Now Gainsford made us complete the VPA as you recall. And that –

CHIDIAC: Yeah.

FURLONG: - took months and months –

CHIDIAC: Yeah – yeah.

FURLONG: And now he did that, no one else.

CHIDIAC: Yeah.

FURLONG: And he kept saying my council says I must complete and that's bullshit. And because of that we lost all this time and because of that we're still bloody dangling around with our arse in a sling.
