MALCOLM TO GOODMAN

MALCOLM GOODMAN

MALCOLM
GARY GOODMAN

MALCOLM:

Yep.

GOODMAN:

Argh. Yeah, you there?

MALCOLM:

Yeah, yeah, can you talk?

GOODMAN:

Yeah, yeah, yeah, no problems.

MALCOLM:

Yeah, yeah um, how much we have to give to Anmol, 2800 correct.

GOODMAN:

Four, eight - four, eight.

MALCOLM:

Four, eight?

GOODMAN:

Four, eight and three to you.

MALCOLM:

Okay 4,8. Because we were paid 5,2.

GOODMAN:

That's right it wasn't enough.

MALCOLM:

So what about - that one we have, ah, on the next week we put the invoice -

GOODMAN:

If you put it in today we're paying today.

MALCOLM: Oh, you're paying today. Alright I have to ring up -

GOODMAN: Do it today.

MALCOLM: - okay I have to ring up Rob okay alright?

GOODMAN: Just work out what the difference is -

MALCOLM: Okay no worries I'll talk to, ah Anmol rang me because he says he can't work, he can't work, he can't work tonight and he can't work tomorrow night.

GOODMAN: No he's got a - he's going to a mate's place -

MALCOLM: Yeah, yeah.

GOODMAN: - party, party tonight. I said you're going to be pissed, he said yeah (unintelligible) good luck to him.

MALCOLM: He's a good bloke. Anyway, anyway I ordered one blower for him, he wanted a blower.

GOODMAN: Yeah, yeah. (unintelligible)

MALCOLM: Because he said he can use at your workshop too at the same time you know..

GOODMAN: Yeah, that's fair enough.
