GOODMAN TO FREITAS

GOODMAN GARY GOODMAN
FREITAS JOE FREITAS

FREITAS: Yeah, hello?

GOODMAN: Where are ya?

FREITAS: Eh?

GOODMAN: Where are ya?

FREITAS: I'm at home (unintelligible)

GOODMAN: Pretending to be sick?

FREITAS: Eh?

GOODMAN: Are you pretending to be sick?

FREITAS: No just doing some paperwork now, just finishing (unintelligible)

GOODMAN: I need some invoices. So you better - I need you to get them off you tomorrow.

FREITAS: (unintelligible)

GOODMAN: So can you do some for us tomorrow?

FREITAS: Eh?

GOODMAN: Can you do some for us for tomorrow?

FREITAS: Do what?

GOODMAN: The invoices.

FREITAS: Why?

GOODMAN: Because I need 'em. You're gonna have to pay things.

FREITAS: Hey?

GOODMAN: You gonna have to pay things.

FREITAS: I gotta pay things. I'm fuckin' sick of this shit I can't doim any more.

GOODMAN: Stop complaining, stop whinging.

FREITAS: No its not funny.

GOODMAN: What's not funny?

FREITAS: This shit having to pay a lot of this shit for nothing.

GOODMAN: What do you mean for nothing?

FREITAS: Well its not really for nothing -

GOODMAN: Yeah, that's right, that's right.

FREITAS: Eh?

GOODMAN: That's right you make money out of it.

FREITAS: How? How?

GOODMAN: Don't you add on, add on 40%?

FREITAS: Hey?

GOODMAN: Don't you add on 40%?

FREITAS: Well 40% by the time I pay GST and all that shit, I'm telling you.

GOODMAN: If you don't want to do it just tell me.

FREITAS: Huh?

GOODMAN: If you don't want to do it just tell me I'll stop it. But it costs you money.

FREITAS: No it's costing me money anyway what's the difference, you know, I just - after this shit with my old man I'm not gonna have nothing bro.

GOODMAN: Look if you don't want to pay 'em that's fine.

FREITAS: Yeah.

GOODMAN: It don't matter I'll take all that away from you.

FREITAS: Yeah.

GOODMAN: But you'll lose money I'm telling you.

FREITAS: Yeah, well -

GOODMAN: I'm telling you, you'll lose money.

FREITAS: - to do something that's not worth it, well it's not really worth it for me.

GOODMAN: That's fine, but you know there's other things I do like bring you a lot of work, you know what I mean? You gotta think about that too.

FREITAS: You do, but lately in the last twelve months we're just paying bills for you, most of them (unintelligible) I've just done my bloody tax and I've had a look at all this shit, you know.

GOODMAN: So you're saying you didn't make any money out of it?

FREITAS: Eh?

GOODMAN: You didn't make any money?

FREITAS: Well not a lot of money out of it, you know Gary by the time I do all the other shit it's not really worth it.

GOODMAN: Okay (unintelligible) do it well

FREITAS: Eh?

GOODMAN: It doesn't bother me I'll stop now stop it straight away -

FREITAS: Yeah.

GOODMAN: - but you've got to think about what you're saying. You've got to think about what you're saying you know what I mean?

FREITAS: Yeah, yeah, there's - no, no I've been thinking about it.

GOODMAN: If you don't want to do it that's fine I'll stop - I can stop the lot.

FREITAS: Yeah.

GOODMAN: No problems, no problems at all. But I say think about what you're saying.

FREITAS: Yeah, I know, I know.

GOODMAN: You know -

FREITAS: I know but (unintelligible)

GOODMAN: I give you, I give you a lot of shit -

FREITAS: But you, you, you -

GOODMAN: I do I give you everything we get. But as I say its up to you, its up to you.

FREITAS: Yeah.

GOODMAN: And that's why I do that, because you look after me. It's a two way street.

FREITAS: Yeah, well yeah, but you know like I said, (unintelligible) I'm thinking about it and its not (unintelligible) I'll write it all down and you'll see what I mean, what I really make.

GOODMAN: No, no but if you think it's not worthwhile there's no problems I'll stop, yeah, I don't want to but its up to you.

FREITAS: Yeah.

GOODMAN: If its not worth your while that's why I put the 40% on so you get something out of it. That's why I did that.

FREITAS: It depends on what, some of those invoices like that idiot with that (unintelligible) make more money than I ever made with (unintelligible) I do like nearly twelve months.

GOODMAN: What car? What are you talking about?

FREITAS: That idiot that done the (unintelligible) up for you.

GOODMAN: Yeah, Rob? What do you mean you didn't make any money out of it?

FREITAS: Eh? He made more money out of that, that I make out in twelve months.

GOODMAN: You were supposed to put about two and a half grand on that.

FREITAS: Eh?

GOODMAN: You were supposed to put about two and a half grand on that.

FREITAS: Well I don't its my stupidity for not doing it because I don't.

GOODMAN: You're supposed to put about two and a half grand, that's what I told you 40%. That's what I told you.
