Hi John

Thank you for your email and your kind words about Erin and Emma.

I'm so glad you are feeling more comfortable at home and that you are seeing people and getting the support to help you get back to everything. I know Emma spoke to you yesterday about your appointment with your GP today so you'll know more about what is possible after that,

Best wishes to Sandra and your mum, too.

Kind regards

Bronwyn

PS - I'm thinking of circulating the sub-committee fatigue report to the JCC next Thursday, Will keep you posted!

Subject: Update - John Hacking

Good Morning Ladies,

Just a quick update on my progress, everything is going fantastic thanks to you both.

The bed arrived and there were no problems, I also meet with the occupational therapist which went well. Just so glad to be at home.

I have to get some x-rays tomorrow for the doctor's appointment with the bone fracture clinic on Thursday as well an appointment with my own GP.

Erin, I just want to run a couple of things past you;

- I'm aiming to get back into things ASAP, I'm hoping to get back to work a couple of days a week SOON, I'm will have more of an idea once I speak to the doctor,
- I've started working from home yesterday, however I get the feeling from Management that this isn't a good idea, (advice would be appreciated) John has arrange a phone hook up Monday to discuss my options. If I have your support I would prefer to get back in to it to stay on top of things.
- My aim is to get back into work and the routine ASAP, as I feel useless just sitting here, if I'm a pain just let me know.

Girls, Once again I would like to extend my appreciation in the professionalism in your approach to my case. It's an absolute pleasure dealing with you both.

I will email an update after my appointments on Thursday.

Regards,

John Hacking

Good Morning Erin,

I'm not sure if you are aware, my doctor's appointment was change from today to yesterday. A bit of a mad rush, however everything thing went well.

The outcome of this appointment was;

- 1. I need to ensure I stay off my leg until my next appointment,
- 2. Next appointment is set for 13th September,
- 3. Investigating my other knee, very sore, may be a small break in this knee,
- 4. Physio may not start until after the 13th September, however
- 5. Have been allowed to remove the leg brace while I'm at home and allowed to do bending exercises. I'm able to bend the leg to about 40 deg which is great.

I will update you when I go back to my GP tomorrow afternoon.

Hi John

Thank you once again for letting me know how you are going - it's good news that you are able to take the brace off at home. Hope you are not finding the pain too debilitating.

I'll be out of the office from Monday 29 August up to Friday 23 September but will still read my emails - and would be really pleased to receive updated reports about your progress, so just ignore any out of office responses.

FYI, I did "informally" table the Sub-Committee's Fatigue report at this morning's JCC and said we would be writing to the PSA formally in the next week or so, Will let you know any developments there.

Best wishes

Bronwyn

Erin,

Good Afternoon, sorry for the delay in getting this to you as I was going to send this to you first thing this morning, however I have been having a bit of pain with the leg over the past four days and the pain killers they gave me knock me out.

I had some this morning and I didn't wake up until now.

Other than that everything is going well.

I go back to the Orthopaedic doctor on the 13th September.
