HOMSEY TO SPRINGETT

HOMSEY SCOTT HOMSEY
SPRINGETT PAUL SPRINGETT

EXTRACT 1

SPRINGETT: Hello brains how are you?

HOMSEY: Hello brains. You got the email.

SPRINGETT: Yeah - yeah.

HOMSEY: Lady Penelope, and we've got the full crowd yeah.

SPRINGETT: I saw that. And the scary part is how closely you all look to those people.

HOMSEY: How closely we all looked to them. You're not wrong.

SPRINGETT: You need some glasses though mate.

HOMSEY: Yeah I know I've got to get some glasses. Mind you I don't think my forehead's like that yet.

SPRINGETT : Yet (laughs).

HOMSEY : Exactly I put the yet in there. How are you mate?

SPRINGETT: Good mate yourself?

HOMSEY: Yeah I'm going good, going - going well. I just thought I'd give you a call and see how things are mate and - and ask you you know the two invoices - the two purchase orders you sent us for those.

SPRINGETT: Transport requests, yeah.

HOMSEY: Yes. I can - I can open one, but I can't open the other. I don't know why, Julia can't open it either. So -

SPRINGETT: No worries, ah where are they. So which one have you got open?

HOMSEY: Okay I'm just opening now just double checking. So when are you on - when do you go on holidays?

SPRINGETT: Ah at the end of this month.

HOMSEY: End of this month not long mate.

SPRINGETT: Yeah I know can't wait.

HOMSEY: I know.

SPRINGETT: (INAUDIBLE)

HOMSEY: Okay that one didn't open so I'll try this one, I'll get you the purchase order number for the one I can open. Okay, here we go. Nah didn't work. He's - he shouldn't let illiterate people run computers, like me. Okay - oh okay I've got purchase order

S44L/14150293. For $660 that's the transport from the Satellite phones from HQ to Bathurst.

SPRINGETT: Beautiful.

HOMSEY: But I can't open the other one.

SPRINGETT: That's alright (INAUDIBLE) -

HOMSEY: And I can't tell you what it is 'cause I can't open it.

SPRINGETT: Ah its 292 I'll send it to you right now.

HOMSEY: Thanks mate. You at work? Or from home?

SPRINGETT: Yeah - no - sittin' here, at my desk. There you go you should have it coming through right now.

HOMSEY: Thank you. Alright I shall - it's probably caught up in some traffic lights somewhere.
