PETCH TO STAVRINOS

PETCH IVAN PETCH
STAVRINOS ANTHONY STAVRINOS

STAVRINOS: Hello.

PETCH: Yeah definitely nothing there from Publicitree mate?

STAVRINOS: Nothing?

PETCH: No.

STAVRINOS: Oh from maybe from the from the Twitter account from Save Ryde?

PETCH: No none of that.

STAVRINOS: I think they were from Save Ryde.

PETCH: No none of those.

STAVRINOS: No.

PETCH: Nuh none of those.

STAVRINOS: Hold on hold on hold on. Alright I will forward it to you now I have got the email here forward ignore the headline here it is strange.

PETCH: Yeh I've got nothing the last email I got was about 5:45pm from ah from you know (indecipherable).

STAVRINOS: Okay look at this to Ivan Petch and you (indecipherable).

PETCH: Ivan.Petch@.

STAVRINOS: Robbie um Robbie texted me and said that they put it up and it's very hard to find it's buried it's buried.

PETCH: Is it?

STAVRINOS: Yep. Buried in the news local section of The Daily Telegraph website.

PETCH: Oh it's on The Daily Telegraph too is it?

STAVRINOS: No no no no it's just on The Daily Telegraph website because News Local put their stuff there now.

PETCH: Oh okay.

STAVRINOS: So yeah no it won't get it won't it might get in The Tele on Monday.

PETCH: Alright.

STAVRINOS: But I doubt it.

PETCH: Alright.

STAVRINOS: Tomorrow we'll see we'll see what next week it would be out by now actually I'll have to check it anyway.

PETCH: Yeh.

STAVRINOS: So that's it that's all there and that he's put some background in and that's good that put that ed-that type of story out as the first ah installment because we can keep on making it juicier.

PETCH: Yeh we sure can he's a good bloke Rob.

STAVRINOS: Progressively progressively juicier no no good it's he's good we can mould that bloke.

PETCH: If he that's right. That's exactly right if you play it straight with him he'll do the right thing by you.

STAVRINOS: Yeh yeh.

PETCH: Yeh.

STAVRINOS: By the way I said to him this afternoon.

PETCH: Yeh.

STAVRINOS: I said to him um um no I said to Leesha McKenny I said to umm I think I told you this I'm not sure whether I'll tell you anyway.

PETCH: Yeh.

STAVRINOS: And she said when she was talking about all the ICAC stuff and I said which ICAC are you talking about are you talking about the ICAC seizure of the computer and she didn't know about that so it was good.

PETCH: Hmm.

STAVRINOS: Good to tell her that yep.

PETCH: Oh she's talking about the other ICAC stuff.

STAVRINOS: Yeah I know I'll take I'll pace ourselves we won't give her too much too we've got to feed the chickens.

PETCH: Yes.

STAVRINOS: Yeh no not one handful at a time.

PETCH: Yes she said have you been talking to ICAC I said I can neither confirm nor deny that.

STAVRINOS: Yeh that's right.

PETCH: You know what the rules are with the ICAC.

STAVRINOS: Yep yep that's right that's right so ah that's good that's good the way you handled it.

PETCH: Yeh.

STAVRINOS: Alright well.

PETCH: Then I said you draw your own conclusions.

STAVRINOS: Yeah that's right she can draw her own conclusions she will she will soon I hope.

PETCH: Yes.

STAVRINOS: If they accelerating everything now I hope they can come up with something quicker than they usually do.

PETCH: Yes. No worries mate.

STAVRINOS: Hmm alright mate.

PETCH: I'll I'll have I'll urgently wait urgently wait for this and have a look at it.

STAVRINOS: Yep and we'll talk during the week.

PETCH: Thanks Anthony.

STAVRINOS: Kay mate bye bye.

PETCH: Cheers mate.
