PETCH: Mate how you going?

Good Ivan how are you?

PETCH: I haven't had a chance to ring you as you know the other fellas left he's gone. Took his bongos.

Yeah I heard I heard I heard that. That must make things a little bit easier.

PETCH: It makes things a lot easier mate. A lot easier.

And a lot less stressed?

PETCH: Well I am going into ICAC now to actually give evidence against him.

Oh okay that's that's news to me.

PETCH: I'm (unintelligible) in the he's in deep shit mate.

Oh okay well he probably picked a good time to leave then.

PETCH: He picked a very good time to leave but he's there's a lot more questions that now have to be answered and and they're not even looking like being put forward let alone answered so ah we'll we'll just push through and do what we have to do mate. It'll all be done by the book.

Yeah well that's good well I'm having a good time up here.

PETCH: I was going to give you a ring and see if you had enough rain.
